Building Manager | Job Description

Ann Arbor Christian is seeking an individual who will lead the oversight of the school building and its property. This individual will see that the proper care of our facilities enables the school to better live out its mission, makes the building conducive for teaching and learning, ensures a safe and healthy environment for all, is attractive and a source of pride for the school community, and leaves visitors with a strong impression of AACCS.

In addition to this oversight, the building manager will also assist with the regular maintenance of the facilities, provide daily custodial services, assist staff with building needs (e.g., set up for class or all-school assembly), manage B&G staff and volunteers and delegate tasks to them, and handle large or long-term projects. Seasonally, the building manager will also be responsible for lawn care, snow removal, and de-icing curbs.

The building manager will report to the Head of School. Hours to be determined, but should align with the school day's needs (e.g., 8am-4pm).

Qualifications:

- Strong personal and mature faith in Jesus Christ
- Experience with facilities management
- Experience with custodial work
- Ability to effectively manage a small team of staff and volunteers
- Ability to effectively work with vendors
- Strength in looking at the big picture as well as details
- Strength as a self-starter and initiator
- Strong interpersonal and communication skills
- Strong organizational and time management skills
- Ability to be flexible and adaptable
- Strong role model for students

ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS

In order to better assess the match between the candidate and the school, we ask all applicants to respond to the following questions. Please type your responses and attach them.

1. Why are you interested in this position?
2. When you read our school's mission statement, what does it mean to you and how does this role support the mission? In partnership with Christian families, Ann Arbor Christian School offers Christ-centered, academically excellent education that challenges students to live and act in society as committed followers of Jesus Christ.
3. At a Christian school, we often need to help in ways not officially on our job descriptions. Is that healthy or unhealthy for a school culture?
4. If you did not answer this in question 2, how would you integrate your faith into this role?
5. Besides what is listed on your résumé, what work or life experiences will contribute to your effectiveness in this role?

By signing this application, you confirm that the information provided is accurate and that you are wholeheartedly able to sign our school's statement of faith.

A Livescan fingerprint clearance is required for all new AACS employees. In the absence of a copy of a recent (within two years) fingerprint clearance, the applicant should contact the Washtenaw Intermediate School District at (734) 994-8100 or another Livescan vendor to schedule a fingerprint scan. The TCN number issued at the time of the fingerprint session is needed by the school in order to move ahead in the application process until the actual results (which will be mailed within a week or two) are sent to you. At that time, you need to provide AACS with a copy of the fingerprint clearance document that they send you. Please either put your TCN number here _____, or attach a copy of your Livescan results.

STATEMENT OF FAITH

Taken from BY-LAWS, ARTICLE II: PRINCIPLES AND OBJECTIVES

[a] A prime objective of the Association will be to instruct children in cooperation with the home as creatures of God in such a manner to equip them for living the Christian life as members of the Christian community in contemporary society.

[b] The basis of the Association is the Old and New Testaments of the Holy Bible, the infallible Word of God, as summarized in the Apostles' Creed. (The Association is not an ecclesiastical body nor is it subject to any ecclesiastical organization. It is governed by its members.)

[c] The organization is committed to the following basic principles for Christian education:

The Bible. That God by His Holy Word reveals Himself; renews our understanding of God, of ourselves, of our neighbors, and of the world; directs us in all our relationships and activities; and, therefore, guides us also in the education of our children.

Creation. That in their education children must come to learn that the world, and their call in it, can rightly be understood only in their relation to the Triune God, who by His creation, restoration, and governance directs all things to the coming of His kingdom and the glorification of His name.

Sin. That sin brought upon all people the curse of God, alienating us from our Creator, our neighbor, and the world. Sin thus distorts our view of the true meaning and purpose of life, misdirects human culture, and also affects the education of children.

Jesus Christ. That through our Savior, Jesus Christ, there is renewal of our educational enterprise because He is the Redeemer of, and the Light and the Way for, our human life in all its range and variety. Only through Him and the work of His Spirit are we guided in the truth and recommitted to our original calling.

Schools. That the purpose of Christian schools is to educate children for a life of obedience to their calling in this world as image-bearers of God; that this calling is to know God's Word and His creation, to consecrate the whole of life to God, to love one another, and to be stewards of God's world.

Parents. That the primary responsibility for education rests upon parents to whom children are entrusted by God, and that Christian parents should accept this obligation in view of the covenantal relationship which God established with believers and their children. They are encouraged to discharge this obligation through school associations and school boards which engage the services of Christian teachers in Christian schools.

Teachers. That Christian teachers, both in obedience to God and in cooperation with parents, have a unique pedagogical responsibility while educating the child in school.

Students. That Christian schools must take into account the variety of abilities, needs, and responsibilities of young persons; that the endowments and calling of young persons as God's image-bearers and their defects and inadequacies as sinners require that such learning goals and curricula will be selected as will best prepare them to live as obedient Christians; and that only with constant attention to such pedagogical concerns will education be truly Christian.

Community. That because God's covenant embraces not only parents and their children but also the whole Christian community to which they belong, and because Christian education contributes directly to the advancement of God's kingdom, parents and the Christian community are encouraged to establish and maintain Christian schools, to pray for them, work for them, and to contribute generously toward their support.

Educational Freedom. That Christian schools, organized and administered in accordance with legitimate standards and provisions for day schools, should be fully recognized in society as free to function according to their principles.

In the spirit of truth and love, the school also affirms these positions and expects all employees to affirm these as well:

- The sanctity of life and that it is pro-life
- That God has defined marriage as the solemn union of one man and one woman and that the beauty of sexual intimacy and the blessing of the living together are designed to be exclusive to that union.
